One day, a mechanic asked a surgeon "Do you think the human body is a machine?". The surgeon replied "Sure, it has parts and each part has a purpose to fulfill just like each an every gear in a machinery as a purpose." "Then why do you get paid so much as compared to me? I open up machines and repair them. Isn't that exactly what you do?" the mechanic asked bluntly. The surgeon replied: "Son, try repairing it with the machine running."
